Historical Background of Imperialism in Africa

Understanding the historical context of imperialism in Africa is crucial for comprehending the dynamics presented in the imperialism in africa worksheet answer key. Imperialism refers to the policy by which powerful nations extend their control over weaker regions, often for economic, political, and strategic advantages. In the case of Africa, the late 19th and early 20th centuries marked an intense period of European expansion and colonization.

This phase, often called the "New Imperialism," differed from earlier forms of colonization due to the rapidity and scale of territorial acquisition. African societies, rich in natural resources and diverse cultures, became prime targets for European powers seeking to bolster their global influence. The continent was subjected to partition and control without regard to existing ethnic, cultural, or political boundaries, a factor that is frequently addressed in the worksheet's questions and answers.

Pre-Imperial Africa

Before European imperialism, Africa consisted of a variety of kingdoms, empires, and societies with complex political and social structures. These included the Ashanti Empire, the Zulu Kingdom, and the Sokoto Caliphate, among others. The worksheet answer key highlights these pre-colonial states to provide contrast with the disruptions caused by imperialism.

imperialism in africa worksheet answer key: Neo-Colonialism in Africa. The Most Dangerous Form of Imperialism? Sadegh Khalili Tehrani, 2021-09-17 Project Report from the year 2020 in the subject History - Africa, grade: 1,0, , language: English, abstract: This paper reviews the after-colonial relationship between African countries and more developed states and discusses whether Africa is trapped in imperialism, more precisely in neo-colonialism. To answer this question, I took a look into the characteristics of neo-colonialism and how more developed states influence Africa, for instance, its decision-making. Finally, I examined the effects of neo-colonialism and how it shapes our impression of Africa. Colonialism in Africa already started back in the time when Arabs invaded Africa in the 7th century, but they mostly stayed in the northern parts of the said continent, above the Sahara. By bringing in the religion Islam, the Arabs had major influences on the African continent . Moreover, through building trading posts at the eastern coast of Africa, they connected the continent to the Indian Ocean Trading Complex, which stretched from China, over India, to Africa. African natural resources, and even slaves, were exported and Indian textiles were imported .
